V. MUNICIPAL FUNDING OPTIONS FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENT	21

I. INTRODUCTION

Communities today are faced with the difficult task of allocating limited resources among a seemingly unlimited number of demands and needs for public services. In many instances, local officials must determine the merits of one project over another without the benefit of comparison, which may result in misjudgment and further limit the community's ability to act precisely on major budget allocation decisions. One method available to local units of government to help manage and systematize the budget allocation process is a Capital Improvement Program.

Capital Improvement Programming (CIP) is simply an ongoing, systematic approach to identify, schedule, and efficiently allocate public dollars to needed capital projects. Typically, a CIP schedules needed municipal projects over a period of five years. Projects, including cost estimates and funding sources, are assigned a date for completion based on community needs and revenues. Each year the program is updated and extended one year to stay responsible to the community's changing needs. CIP will eliminate “crises” or reactive financial management.

A carefully developed CIP allows a community to anticipate its facility needs and to schedule improvements according to project needs and its local financial capabilities. The CIP process offers several additional benefits to a community.

1. Aid in the task of effectively allocating limited resources among a seemingly unlimited number of demands and needs for public service;
2. Improve communications and cooperation among various interests in the community;
3. Provide continuity in financial decisions by linking long-term planning to the programming and budgeting of major projects;
4. Stabilize local tax rates by more effectively relating expenditures to financial capacity in a given time frame; and
5. Improve local ability to use state and federal grant-in-aid programs.

II. THE CIP PROCESS

While the process may vary from community to community, a typical CIP procedure will include the following steps:

- A. Analyze Community Facility Needs
 - B. Prepare Project Descriptions
 - C. Analyze Fiscal Capacity
 - D. Set Project Priorities
 - E. Develop and Adopt CIP
 - F. Update CIP Annually
1. Analyze Community Facility Needs - A community begins by analyzing its community facilities and the services it provides with an emphasis on its adequacy to serve the people and identify future capital improvement needs. The analysis will typically include municipal facilities such as public water and sewer systems, streets and sidewalks, municipal protection facilities, recreational facilities, and certain economic development related interests of the community.
 2. Prepare Project Descriptions - After determining the need for capital improvements, it is necessary to collect details on the project so that its implementation priority can be accurately and equitably assigned. Cost estimates, project schedule, locations, and potential funding sources are listed for each project.
 3. Analyze Fiscal Capacity - The next step is to analyze the community's financial capacity to fund capital improvements. The financial analyses examines projected operating revenues and expenses for each year of the programming period. The amount of financing available for capital projects equals the surplus of projected operating revenues over expenditures. The analysis must also consider debt servicing as an alternate form of financing.
 4. Set Project Priorities - Since a community will often identify more projects than can be funded, priorities must be established. By doing so, priorities can be established so that limited financial resources are allocated efficiently. To accomplish this task, criteria is set to provide some objective standards in establishing priorities.
 5. Develop and Adopt CIP - The final CIP combines the individual project descriptions, priorities, and financial analyses into a recommended schedule of capital projects. Upon general consensus of local officials, the CIP should be adopted by resolution supporting the recommended program.

6. Implementation and Updating - It should be emphasized that the CIP is a flexible and dynamic document that is updated annually to reflect changing needs and new priorities. Each year the community will identify new projects, monitor fiscal capacity and set new priorities for the upcoming year. Through annual review and updating, the CIP will reflect the most current goals and priorities of the community.
